	List articles in these categories: News, Features and Sports.	Search for foreign language words in the newspaper that are also used in English, such as banana.	Are there numbers in any newspaper ads or articles? Create equations with these to practice math.	Find an article with a map. Use the scale to determine the distance between two points on the map.	Every sport has its own vocabulary. List all football words in the newspaper, even those not in a sports article.

	Super Bowl Week! Find Super Bowl stories and compare the writing styles between news, sports and feature articles.	Take a position on whether you think sporting events deserve the hype they get, then write and submit a letter to the editor.	Find the Roman numerals for the Super Bowl. Convert other numbers in the newspaper to Roman numerals.	Find pictures of Super Bowl party food. Use maps to find the routes this food would take from farm to table.	Look for science terms in articles about the Super Bowl, such as mass, velocity and acceleration.
