	Find photos or articles about the school or district in these categories: News, Features, Sports.	Notice vocabulary differences between sections, such as news and sports, by listing words used in one but not the other.	Often headlines and stories will estimate numbers. How many estimates are in the newspaper?	Find stories that illustrate the 5 themes of geography: location, place, movement, human environment interaction and region.	March comes in like a lion and out like a lamb. Do reported current weather events support this old saying?

	Find stories or photos in the newspaper in which people positively or negatively demonstrated a character trait.	Choose a headline, then write an article to go with it.	Decide on an item to buy, then use the ads to find the best price and quality for that item.	Read an article about a baseball team, then find the longitude and latitude of its hometown.	Modeling articles about alcohol and tobacco, write an informational story about the inherent dangers of drugs.
