Companion Teacher Guide

Part II – Secondary Activities

By: Jennifer Wirthwein—Gifted Education Teacher
Washington Public Schools
Washington, Missouri

The Big Ditch is a lively adventure story of a young boy, Douglas Taylor, as he accompanies his family to Panama to help the workers who are building the canal. This guide has:

- discussion prompts to allow students to exchange information and ideas
- constructed response questions to give students practice responding to literature
- newspaper related activities, to encourage them to actively engage with other parts of the newspaper
- character building questions and activities to nurture and enhance positive traits
- research to extend the connections from the text

Chapter 1

Secondary Activities

Discussion: Discuss the following with your classmates. Doug Taylor was facing a big move. Have you ever had to move? How did you feel about the experience? What advice would you give Doug?

Constructed Response: Answer the following using at least two well-formed sentences. What is the tone of this passage? How does the author develop the tone? Is it effective? Why?

---

---

---

In the News: Use the newspaper to complete the following. Dr. Gorgas and Dr. Taylor were working to fight the disease of malaria in Panama. What disease poses a current threat to your country? Your state? Your local region? What steps are being taken to prevent or cure the disease? Find an article in the news and summarize it below.

---

---

---

---

Character Counts: Good character can be found in many different people in many different ways. If you had to choose one character from this passage who exemplified good character choices, who would you choose? Why?

---

---

---

---

Further Research: Doug Taylor learned about the vegetation and animals found in the tropical region of Panama. Find at least five examples of plants and animals prevalent in Panama today and list them below.

Plants: _____

Animals: _____

Create a poster with pictures to illustrate the examples listed above.

Chapter 2—Going to Sea

Secondary Activities

Discussion: Discuss the following with your classmates. Doug was given only one container to pack for the move. If you were going to move away and could only take one small container, what would you choose to pack? Why?

Constructed Response: Answer the following using at least two well-formed sentences. What is the main idea of this passage? Why is it important to the story?

---

In the News: Use the newspaper to complete the following. While traveling to Panama, Doug encountered a freight wagon, a buggy and a ship. What forms of transportation can you find in the paper? Compare and contrast these forms of transportation with those mentioned in this reading passage. Create a Venn Diagram or T-Chart to display your answer.

Character Counts: Doug felt homesick before he even set foot on the ship bound for Panama. This indicates he has fond and happy memories of his neighbors and community. List three things you can do to be a good neighbor.

---

Further Research: Poisonous snakes are the topic of Doug's daydreams as he begins his journey to Panama. How can you determine if a snake is poisonous? What can you do if you encounter a poisonous snake? Create a brochure about snake safety. Include 10 facts and three pictures. Share the brochures with your class.

Chapter 3—Next Stop: Panama

Secondary Activities

Discussion: Discuss the following with your classmates. Mosquitoes were a major threat to the people in Panama. Are mosquitoes still seen as a danger today? How do people tend to react about mosquitoes? How would you feel if you were on the boat headed to Panama?

Constructed Response: Answer the following using at least two well-formed sentences. What conflict is mentioned in the passage? How do the characters respond to the conflict?

---

In the News: Use the newspaper to complete the following. Doug was looking forward to dinner, his last big meal on the ship. Imagine you were in charge of preparing dinner for your family. What foods would you choose? Take in to consideration your families' likes and dislikes, as well as nutritional value. Imagine you have $30 to spend for your family, and use the newspaper ads to shop for the necessary ingredients. Cut and paste your choices below.

Character Counts: It was important to Doug to keep in touch with his friends back home. Imagine that you were Doug's friend and had received a letter detailing his fears of living in Panama. Write a letter to Doug and offer words of encouragement and support.

Further Research: Dr. Taylor tells his son about the famous Dr. Walter Reed. If you were going to interview Dr. Reed, what questions would you ask? List five questions and find as many answers as you can. Share your findings with the class.

Chapter 4—A New Life

Secondary Activities

Discussion: Discuss the following with your classmates. What is Doug’s first impression of Panama? Have you ever been to a foreign country? What was it like? Would you like to visit Panama someday?
